"Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: . . . Ye have heard that it hath been said. Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you; that ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for He maketh His sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. . . . . The time has arrived when humanity is awakening to the fact that thought is force and edged sword of the Spirit, which trithat spiritual thought-force, the Mind that was in Christ Jesus, controls the universe. Ever reechoing through consciousness are these words of the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy:

Legally to abolish unpaid servitude in the United States was hard; but the abolition of mental slavery is a more difficult task. The despotic tendencies, inherent in mortal mind and always germinating in new forms of tyranny, must be rooted out through the action of the divine Mind.

"Men and women of all climes and races are still in bondage to material sense, ignorant how to obtain their freedom. The rights of man were vindicated in a single section and on the lowest plane of human life, when African slavery was abolished in our land. That was only prophetic of fur-ther steps towards the banishment of a world-wide slavery, found on higher planes of existence and under more subtle and depraving forms."-(Science and Health, pp. 225-226.)

Mental slavery must be abolished. When Mr. Oscar T. Crosby of New York and Virginia was assistant secretary of the Treasury, his daughter, formerly Miss Miriam Crosby, and a well known belle of Washington in the late nineties, now Countess Caricciolo de Melito, and her handsome husband. Count Mario, were frequently seen in the cosmopolitan set of Washington. Count Mario possessed a romantic personality and a fine baritone voice, and the news that he has adopted a stage career does not surprise his friends. For a few months he was a military attache of the Italian embassy during the world war, but a martial career did not appeal. These were swept away, and even the famous palaces of the family in Naples. Palermo and Rome are now in allen hands. Count Mario will appear on the silver screen under his stage name of Mario Carillo, the head of his family the Prince Marcelo Ignacio, who lives in Rome and is one of the directors and a chevalier of the Knights of Malta, not relishing such occupation for one bearing his name. The Countess Mario de Caricciolo has a tidy fortune, which her father, who was president of the international councill of finance during the late war, has secured entirely for her and her children, and even the income must be spent in this country.

In the past three years no less than eleven American citizens have entered the British peerage through the laws of primogeniture, the latest addition being that sedate and reserved Mr. Audrey Brisco, who purchased large orange and lemon groves near Pasadena and has been one of the most active and useful ranchers thereabout. Mr. Brisco, or rather Sir Audrey, as he is now, was born in Gordonsville, Va., and his mother, Mrs. Fleming Brisco, is still a resident of that pretty little city. The elder Brisco came from England more than sixty years ago in search of health and fortune, marrying a belle of the tobacco belt. He never returned to the homeland. Sir Audrey is in his fiftieth year and, besides a baronetcy, he comes into an immense estate from his distant cousin whom he succeeds, Sir Hylton Ralph Brisco, who held fine pasture lands in Cumberland and a residential section of Sussex, which grows almost hourly in commercial value. Sir Hylton disappeared mysteriously from the Peninsular and Oriental liner Narkunda about three years ago and has only recently been officially pronounced dead. The new American peer is unmarried and rich in his own right and without reference to his English estate.
